Volume 1: Issue 9 July 2025

Ephesians 4:4

I have wrestled with what to write as we are heading quite swiftly into the month of July. The last few months our church has experienced immense joy in celebrating new births; however, we have also felt the deep heart ache of losing two precious individuals whom we have had daily interaction with. Donna Stemmler and Walter Gilbert were two faces we would see every Sunday, and personally, I enjoyed very much conversating with them, and I will miss them terribly.

The only words that I have are simply not my own, because I truly believe that the words of Christ not only sum up how we are feeling but, His words also provide how to keep going when all seems lost. When circumstances beyond our control happen, and when our routines become jolted, the promises to cling to even closer are found in The Words of Christ. Promises for the here and now such as what is said in Psalm 23:4, "Even though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil, for you are with me; Your rod and Your staff, they comfort me." Promises pertaining to our soon eternal home, as John 14:2 says, "In my Father's house are many rooms...I will come again and will take you to Myself, that where I am you may be also."

Friends, Jesus loves you and will be your comfort in the deepest, darkest night.

Keep holding on to Him,

Pastor Patrick & Leanne
